WHO WE ARE

Owusu & Partners Global is a London-based International Legal Management Group operating on a chambers-style model, bringing together independent barristers and specialist lawyers from key international jurisdictions, with a particular focus on the United Kingdom, Middle East, Africa and the Caribbean.

We combine the freedom of independent practice with the infrastructure, strategic support and international reach required to develop and manage sophisticated domestic and cross-border practices.

Through technology-enabled practice management, clerking, business development, marketing and operational support, we provide the infrastructure around independent practitioners while preserving their professional independence.

For clients and instructing professionals, we provide seamless access to a carefully curated panel of specialist practitioners through a single London-anchored platform. Our Associate Members advise and represent clients across a broad range of commercial, regulatory and specialist matters, including complex domestic and cross-border work.

For practitioners, we provide the infrastructure and support required to build and develop an internationally focused practice without having to establish and manage the entire operational framework of a conventional firm independently.

One of the first international legal management groups of its kind, Owusu & Partners Global is developing a new model for supporting independent legal practice across jurisdictions.

Nana Owusu
Founder & Managing Director

Having worked within leading London barristers' chambers, Nana developed a deep understanding of chambers management, business development and the operational infrastructure that supports leading independent practitioners.

He established Owusu & Partners Global to bring those principles into a broader international model, creating a London-anchored group through which independent barristers and specialist lawyers can develop their practices while retaining professional independence.

Nana leads the Group's strategic direction and international development, overseeing its practitioner network, client relations and practice-management infrastructure.

OUR PANEL

Our Associate Members are carefully selected independent barristers and specialist lawyers practising across our core jurisdictions.

Each member is chosen for technical excellence, commercial judgment, and the ability to operate effectively across borders, ensuring that every instruction is handled by the right specialist.

Dean Armstrong KC

Associated Member | England & Wales (1985)

Leading specialist in cyber law, technology and digital assets, with extensive experience advising and representing clients in complex commercial and technology-related matters. His practice encompasses high-value disputes, emerging technologies and digital assets, with a particular focus on matters at the intersection of law, technology and innovation.

Bruce Drummond

Associated Member | England & Wales (1992)

Highly experienced commercial barrister with a broad practice encompassing complex commercial disputes, contractual matters and high-value litigation. He brings extensive experience of advising and representing clients in sophisticated commercial matters, including disputes involving significant legal and commercial issues.

Kobina Hughes

Associated Member | United Kingdom (1992), Ghana (2014)

Dual-qualified solicitor with substantial experience across construction, energy and infrastructure, advising on complex commercial and project-related matters. His practice combines commercial, contractual and regulatory expertise with an international perspective, particularly in sectors involving major infrastructure and energy projects.

Brian Mondoh

Associated Member | England & Wales (2017), Trinidad & Tobago (2019)

Specialist barrister focusing on technology, commercial law, blockchain, digital assets and emerging technologies. His practice encompasses technology regulation, data protection, AI, financial services and complex commercial matters, with experience spanning the UK, Caribbean, Middle East and other international markets.

PRACTICE AREAS

We provide access to specialist advisory and advocacy services across high-value, technically complex areas of law, including:

Commercial Litigation & Advisory
Our Associate Members advise and represent clients in complex commercial disputes, contractual matters and contentious proceedings, combining commercial insight with effective advocacy to resolve disputes, manage legal risk and support critical business decisions.

Technology, AI & Cyber
Specialist advice and advocacy across cyber law, artificial intelligence, digital assets, blockchain, data protection and emerging technologies, combining technical understanding with regulatory insight in rapidly evolving digital sectors.

Energy & Infrastructure
Advice on major energy, infrastructure and power projects, including project development, regulation, procurement, financing and cross-border transactions, supported by sector-specific commercial and regulatory expertise.

Banking, Financial Services & Digital Assets
Expert advice across banking, financial services, fintech, digital assets, cryptocurrency and regulatory compliance, including complex financial transactions and disputes. Our Associate Members advise financial institutions, businesses and investors navigating evolving financial and regulatory environments.

Construction Law
Advisory and contentious support across major construction, engineering and infrastructure projects, including procurement, project delivery, commercial contracts and dispute resolution, with a practical and commercially focused approach to complex projects.

Cross-Border Advisory
Coordinated legal support on multi-jurisdictional regulatory, compliance and commercial matters, drawing on the Group's international panel to provide specialist expertise across jurisdictions.

Other Areas Include
Professional Negligence, Media & Entertainment, Insolvency, Employment Law, Family & Matrimonial Finance, Space Sector & Emerging Technologies, Public-Private Partnerships (PPP), Immigration, and Property & Landlord and Tenant matters.

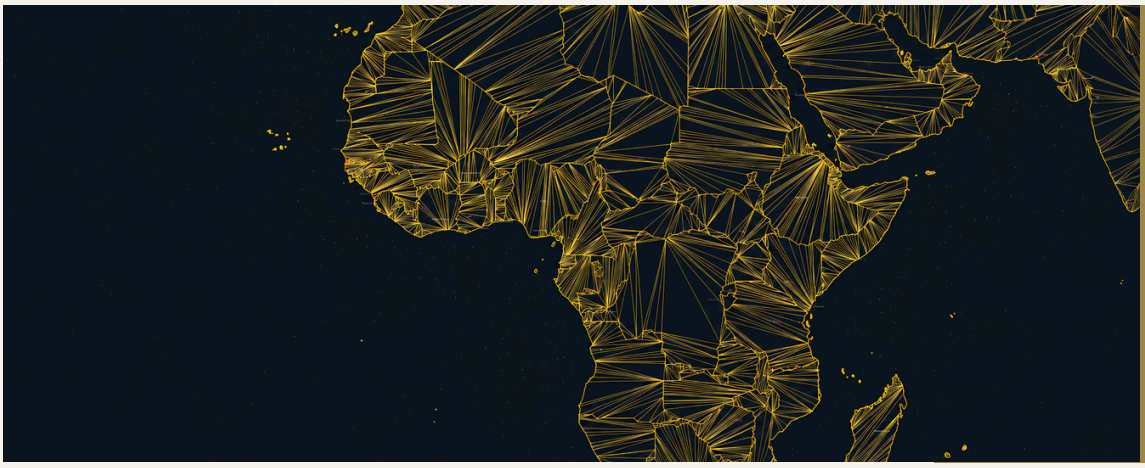
CROSS-BORDER
CAPABILITY

Complex legal matters increasingly cross jurisdictions. Our group is designed to make that complexity easier to manage.

A London Anchored International Group
Owusu & Partners Global provides clients with coordinated access to independent specialist practitioners across the United Kingdom, Middle East, Africa and the Caribbean through a single London-anchored platform.

Specialist Expertise Across Jurisdictions
Our Associate Members bring jurisdiction-specific knowledge and specialist expertise to matters involving multiple legal systems, enabling clients to access the right practitioner for each aspect of a matter.



Coordinated Multi-Jurisdictional Support
Where a matter requires expertise across jurisdictions or areas of law, our group enables Associate Members to collaborate where appropriate, providing clients with a coordinated approach rather than requiring them to manage multiple independent relationships.

English Law Expertise
Our panel includes practitioners with experience in English law and other common-law jurisdictions, creating opportunities to combine English-law expertise with established knowledge of African, Caribbean and Middle Eastern markets.

Independent Practice, Connected Internationally
Each Associate Member remains professionally independent and responsible for their own legal services. Owusu & Partners Global provides the infrastructure and support that enables independent practitioners to collaborate effectively across borders.

WHY
OWUSU & PARTNERS GLOBAL

Independent Expertise
Clients gain direct access to experienced independent barristers and specialist lawyers, while practitioners retain the professional freedom and independence of their own practices. Our model is designed to put specialist expertise at the centre of every matter.

International Reach
A London-anchored platform connecting independent practitioners across the United Kingdom, Middle East, Africa and the Caribbean, enabling clients and practitioners to access expertise and opportunities across jurisdictions.

Professional Infrastructure
We provide the technology-based practice management, business development, clerking, and operational support required to build and manage a modern legal practice, allowing practitioners to focus on their legal work while giving clients a professionally coordinated experience.

Connected Expertise
Where matters require complementary expertise, our international panel enables practitioners to collaborate across jurisdictions and practice areas, giving clients coordinated access to the right specialists for complex domestic and cross-border matters.
